BULLETIN

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., May 30—Col. E. F. Clayton, commanding the state troops on riot duty at East St. Louis telephoned Adjutant General Dickson at 1:30 a. m. today, (Wednesday) that the militia and authorities were in control of the situation and that no more troops would be needed. The Benton company of the Fourth regiment, which was ordered out yesterday, entrained at midnight and was due at East St. Louis about 2 a. m.

EAST ST. LOUIS, Ill., May 29.—Three white men, Thomas Richie, A. E. Larkin and C. E. Dageville and two negroes, Hardy Hanks and Charles E. Irvin, were wounded by gun shots and six negro homes were burned here tonight in a recurrence of riots that started Monday night after a meeting of the city council at which labor leaders protested against the wholesale importation of negro laborers.

Six troops of Illinois National Guardsmen patrolled the streets, but groups of from 20 to 200 men formed at frequent intervals all thru the night. The appearance of a negro on the street was a signal for trouble.

Negro Shoots Watchman.

Thomas Richie, a private watchman for the Baltimore & Ohio railroad, was patrolling the tracks when he saw a negro approaching with a shot gun. Ritchie challenged the black, who fired, wounding Ritchie in the shoulder.

At St. Mary's hospital two white men were taken in a serious condition as a result of gunshot wounds. The two men are A. E. Larkin and C. E. Dageville, laborers.

Col. C. E. Clayton of Vandalia, and men of Company I of Vandalia; Company L of Olney, both of the Fourth Illinois and Troop D of Springfield, First Illinois Cavalry, are patrolling the streets and guarding the negro districts.

The intermittent formation of small mobs continued during the evening but with soldiers patrolling the streets in pairs, none of them gained any appreciable size. At no time was there more than 200 men in a group.

Expects Little Trouble.

At 11 o'clock, Col. C. E. Clayton, declared he expected little more trouble tonight. Colonel Clayton stationed his men, each armed with a rifle with 90 rounds of ammunition 100 feet apart, in the sections where trouble was feared. Orders were issued to let no one pass into the "restricted zones" without being challenged.

Three engine companies of fire departments responded to an alarm in North Third street reavily settled by negroes and were met with a volley when they arrived there, but none was hit.

Hundreds of arrests were made, especially at the approaches of the Eads and Free Bridges. One negro was taken who carried a sack con- Eads and Free Bridges. One negro taining eight revolvers and 300 rounds of ammunition.

iSx men of the first regiment, national guard of Missouri, were arrested tonight, charged with inciting to riot.

One of the wounded negroes, Hardy Harts, said he was coming from work when he was accosted by a white man who asked him where he was going. Harts did not reply, he said, and the white man drew a revolver and fired. Harts was dangerously wounded. A crowd soon gathered. Policemen used clubs freely, and the mob was dispersed only to gather a few minutes later in a chase after Charles Ervin, another negro, who was halted by a bullet. Ervin is alleged to have said the blacks would put up a fight if trouble started tonight.

All Saloons Closed.

All saloons here were closed at six o'clock this evening and moving picture theatres, by order of the mayor, failed to open their doors. These steps were taken to prevent concentration of people and the consequent danger of further race rioting. Mayor Mollman requested the people of this city to stay home, as far as possible, tonight. Eight companies of the Illinois National Guard were on duty tonight. Six of these came in from other towns to reinforce the two companies of the sixth infantry stationed here.

TO CHANGE TYPE OF NAVAL GUN POWDER CUPS

Action Results from Accident On Steamer Mongolia

Secretary Daniels Makes Public Report of Special Investigating Board Which Exonerates Naval Gun Crew on Board Steamer on Which Two Nurses Were Killed

Washington, May 29—To make impossible any repetition of the recent unprecedented accident on the American Steamer Mongolia, in which two Red Cross nurses were killed, the brass type of powder cups used in American naval guns for a score of years is to be abandoned for wood or fibre substitutes. In making public tonight a report of a special investigating board, which exonerated the naval guard on the Mongolia and attributed the accident to an unexplainable deflection at right angles of a portion of a brass powder cup, Secretary Daniels announced that while a similar tragedy "might not occur again in another twenty years, yet we do not propose to take the risk."

Beyond showing that wooden disks or possibly fibre mouth cups would be substituted for the brass type, the secretary did not reveal the plans of the department.

Change a Sweeping One

The change will be a sweeping one for great quantities of the kind used on the Mongolia are being supplied other merchant ships and all the vessels of the navy itself carrying smaller calibre guns.

The board found that the blame for the Mongolia accident apparently rested solely on the type of gun cap, the cups used being perfect and the gunners without fault. Attached to the report was a statement by Rear-Admiral Earle, chief of ordnance, emphasizing that the shells were of a new lot carefully inspected and of a type adopted after extensive research and heretofore regarded as absolutely safe. "The findings of the experts," said Secretary Daniels, "should end the confused conjecture that has complicated this sad and regrettable accident. No blame attaches to Lieutenant Seymour or the men of the gun crew. No power could have foreseen the peculiar boomeranging of the brass mouth cup."

ISSUE STIRRING APPEAL AGAINST USE OF VODKA

PETROGRAD, May 29.—via London—The increase in the illicit sale of vodka and the general wave of intoxication which threatens to spread thruout the country, provoking disorders and endangering the internal peace of country is the subject of a stirring appeal to citizens issued by the executive committee of the council of workmen's and soldiers' delegates.

"We notice an increase of drunkenness in Petrograd and other parts of Russia," reads the appeal. "Vodka readily is found in the interior as well as at the front. Many deplorable events in the last few weeks were due to drunkenness. Formerly the emperor encouraged drunkenness since it helped to support the imperial throne. Now the black hundred is trying to intoxicate the country because it wants to create disorders, cause civil war and the return of the monarchy. Massacres will follow the appearance of Vodka. Then the servants of the old regime will emerge from their hiding places and there will be a repetition of what happened in 1905. The work of the revolution will be drowned in blood by the enemies of the people. No one has a right to buy Vodka or to drink it. Let it disappear forever with the old regime."

VIRTUALLY AGREE ON APPROPRIATIONS

WASHINGTON, May 29.—Increased appropriations aggregating about $500,000,000 added by the senate to the war budget bill for various military purposes virtually all were agreed to today by the senate and house conferees during the first few hours of their work on the $3,342,000,000 measure. The authorization in the bill of $750,000,000, for construction and purchase of American merchant ships is not in dispute and will remain as passed by congress. Changes in legislation to regulate the acquisition of the merchant fleet was discussed today but no agreement was reached. The house rewrote the senate clauses providing for commandeering of ship yards, factories, wharves and other facilities.

NAMES LIEUT. COL. REIG TO GO TO FORT SILL

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., May 29. — Lieutenant Colonel John W. Reig of Moline, Ill., an officer of the Sixth Infantry, Federalized National Guard part of which is in camp at Camp Lowden near Springfield, was today appointed to go to Fort Sill, Okla., to take a course of instruction there in hand grenade throwing and other tactics in use on the western front in France. The appointment was made by Col. Charles C. Davis, commanding officer of the regiment before he went to East St. Louis to take charge of Federalized Guardsmen whose services were tendered to the state to aid, if necessary, in stopping race rioting there.

DONALD MACMILLAN SAFE

New York, May 29.—Donald MacMillan, the explorer and other members of the Crockerland expedition which went into the Arctic in 1913, are safe at Etah on the northwest coast of Greenland, according to a cablegram received today by the American Museum of Natural History.

NUMBER OF MATTOON RESIDENTS MISSING

Census Develops Possibility that Bodies May Be Buried in Wreckage

BEGIN THORO SEARCH

Carloads of Food Continue to Roll Into Charleston and Mattoon

GIVES BASIS OF PLAN

MATTOON, Ill., May 29—Possibility that bodies may yet be buried in the wrecked homes of Mattoon developed tonight when a census of the city revealed a number of persons who lived in the district wrecked by Saturday's storm were unaccounted for.

Sixteen persons were reported missing by the Red Cross relief organization and immediately a force of men began a thoro search of the ruins under the supervision of Mayor George B. Swan and Major William Klauser of the ourth Infantry, Illinois National Guard.

Those Reported Missing

Those reported missing were: Richard Ball, Walter Sewall, Sarah Eberhardt, John Schott, Vera Schott, Homer Stern, Melinda Davidson, Mrs. Myrtle and Mrs. Martha Hill and Elsie, Howard, K. C., Walter, Wilson, Wilbert and Margare' Hill.

Members of the Hill family are believed to have left Mattoon without notifying their friends. The search for the missing will be continued until each of the 496 buildings wrecked have been inspected. The same steps will be taken in Charleston, altho it is believed that every resident of that town has been accounted for.

Coincident with the search gangs of men were at work in each community tearing away the debris and tonight all streets, those which suffered most, were practically free from debris. Several families were enabled to re-occupy their partially destroyed homes.

To Give $100 for Reconstruction

Mayor Swann said today that the basis of the permanent relief plan in Mattoon is to give each family whose home was destroyed $100 for reconstruction of their dwelling, and he estimated that $300,000 would be necessary for the purpose. Reconstruction cannot begin in most parts of the city for at least two weeks, because of the wreckage to be removed.

Carloads of food from thruout Illinois, Indiana and Missouri continued to roll into Charleston and Mattoon today and tonight, and J. J. O'Connor, director of the Red Cross, said that the surplus now available is enough to feed the people of Mattoon for about three months.

The Mattoon relief committee had about $22,000 in cash on hand tonight and pledges for approximately $70,000 more. Charleston had a slightly smaller amount available. The Red Cross had available, in addition, $32,000 for the relief in the two communities.

Estimates Loss to Farmers

Based on a compilation of farmers' reports, W. W. Moran, supervisor of Mattoon township, tonight estimated the loss to farmers in the storm swept county between Mattoon and Charleston in implements, crops, livestock and buildings at about $300,000. The Mattoon loss has been estimated at about $1,250,000 and that of Charleston at more than $1,000,000.

Governmental steps to determine the cause of recurring wind storms in the central west, with a view to evolving, if possible, plans for future protection were undertaken today with the arrival of representatives of the United States weather bureau. A complete meteorological survey of the section will be made.

As a result of the storm Mattoon has practically given up hope of being chosen as the site of the training camp for the Illinois quota of the United States draft army.

WAR NEWS SUMMARIZED

On the southern end of the line near the head of the Gulf of Triest in the Austro-Italian theater the Italians for the moment have paused in their titanic effort to push forward to Trieste and heavy fighting again is in progress to the north around Gorizia, Plava and the Vodice. East of Gorizia and on the Vodice the Austrians attempted to carry the offensive to the Italians but the artillery fire of King Victor Emmanuel's men stopped the assaults. In the last named sector the Italians themselves delivered an attack and notwithstanding stubborn resistance made progress on the southeastern slope of Hill 52. Likewise in the Plava sector the Austrians were driven back.

Around San Giovanni and Duino at the lower end of the line the Austrians heavily bombarded the Italians in their new positions and ineffectually tried to oust them. Since the new battle from Tolmino to the sea began, the Italians claim they have captured 23,681 prisoners and the Austrians claim they have taken 14,500.

Tuesday passed with relatively calm on both the British and French fronts in France, London merely recording a successful raid northwest of LaBasse and Paris asserting that artillery fighting alone prevailed.

Following reports of an increase in the Russian artillery activity against the Austrians in the eastern theater comes a statement that there has been a renewal of the activity of the Russo-Roumanian forces against the Teutonic allies in Roumania and that early attacks by them are expected. The visits to Jassy the new capital of Roumania, of M. Thomas, the French minister of munitions, and M. Kerensky, the Russian minister of war, possibly may be connected with the revival of the activity of the Russo-Roumanian troops.

WILL UNDERTAKE FOOD PRICE REDUCTION

Work Will Be One of First Food Administration Aims

As Soon As Congress Passes Legislation Attempt Will Be Made By Cutting Down Margin Between Producer and Consumer Thru a System of Executives.

Washington, May 29.—Reduction of the present high prices the consumer pays for food it was announced today will be one of the first aims of the new food administration which will be created with Herbert C. Hoover at its head as soon as congress passes the government's food control legislation. This will be undertaken by cutting down the margin between producer and consumer thru a system of executives under the central administration, each to study means of shortening the speculative chain that handles a particular commodity. The first staples to be studied will be grain, flour, meat and sugar.

Stability of prices, Mr. Hoover believes is vital to the successful lowering of costs to the consumer, both here and abroad. The executives will have under them boards, on which will be represented producer, middlemen and consumer. Their efforts will be in the direction of modification of present trade methods and the stimulating of production.

Will Advise On Purchasing.

The system of executive boards will be one of several divisions into which the administration will be divded. One of the duties of the executives will be to advise on allied purchasing which Mr. Hoover and government officials hope will be removed from a competitive basis when the allies have established permanent buying commissions here. These commissions are to agree on their minimum food needs for presentation to a central buying commission who in turn will deal direct with the American food administration. The food administration thru its commodity executives will ascertain just what the country can spare in food staples and this will be balanced off against the allied demands. If stocks available for export do not reach the allied requirements the allied commissioners will settle among themselves their apportionment.

LORIMER RECOVERING FROM ACCIDENT

CHICAGO, May 29.—William Lorimer, former United States senator and banker, is recovering at his home here today from the effect of an accident in a sewmill at Jonesville, La., in which his right arm was broken in three places. Mr. Lorimer has been engaged for the last five months in managing the sawmill, in which he is interested financially. Since his acquittal in the state court of the charge of wrecking the LaSalle Street and Savings Bank and allied institutions, the former senator has been in the south working, in an attempt to repair his fortunes, with the avowed purpose of paying off all losses to depositors of the defunct banking institutions.

MAKE PROGRESS IN RE-DRAFTING BILL

Senate Committee Decides on Nearly All Important Questions

REDUCE HOUSE TOTAL

Sentiment Against Bringing Out a Measure Providing for $1,800,000,000

WILL SURVEY WORK

WASHINGTON, May 29.—Decisions on nearly all important questions in re-drafting the $1,800,000 war tax bill had been reached late today when the senate finance committee suspended its work over Decoration Day. Except for the liquor and stamp taxes carried in the measure as it passed the house the committee has settled the major principles of revision, with a view toward reducing the house total to around $1,500,000,000.

Principle Decisions.

The principle decisions today were:

Elimination of the general tariff tax of ten percent ad valorem on all imports (estimated to raise $200,000,000) and substitution of excise, or consumption, taxes on sugar, coffee, tea and cocoa.

Reduction of the house increases in taxes on cigars, cigarettes and all other tobacco products from about 100 percent to about sixty percent with no estimated reduction in the $78,200,000 designed to be brought in under the house rates.

Elimination of the house taxes of five percent on consumers electric light and power, gas and telephone bills, estimated by the house to raise in all $30,000,000. The committee however, proposes to retain the tax on telegraph and long distance telephone messages.

Eliminate Insurance Taxes.

Elimination of taxes on all insurance, involving revenue loss of $5,0000,000.

Addition of a new per pound tax upon confectionery, estimated to raise from $10,000,000 to $15,000,000 to be paid by manufacturers. Reduction of taxes on soft drinks and their ingredients to make the total levy about $15,000,000 instead of $20,000,000.

With these phase of its task decided upon the committee arranged to have Chairman Simmons and the treasury department experts make a survey tomorrow of its work to date to ascertain whether further changes are necessary to arrive at a bill roughly totalling $1,500,000,000.

Sentiment Against McAdoo.

Secretary McAdoo today urged Senator Simmons and other committee members to bring out a bill levying near the $1,800,000,000 total of theh ouse, but committee sentiment was said to be virtually unanimously against him and in favor of providing thru short term bonds any money needed in excess of $1,500,000,000.

The committee fixed the new excise ta xon suga at 1-2c a pound and that on cocoa at 3c a pound estimated to yield, espectively $45,000,000 and $7,000,000.

The excise taxes wee adopted by the committee as a substitute for the general ten percent tax increase of the house. It is estimated that the revenues would be somewhat less than the $200,000,000 estimated from the proposed tariff levy and they may reach only $150,000,000.

SHIPPERS CONTINUE TESTIMONY AT HEARING

WASHINGTON, May 29.—Pessimistic predictions by shippers as to the effect upon conditions if the railroads are granted a fifteen percent freight rate increase continued today before the interstate commerce commission.

Representatives of southern fruit and lumber interests, paving brick manufacturers and fertilizer makers were unanimous in declaring that their industries would be appreciably affected, and in some cases forced out of business if the raises were granted.

To accommodate the large number of interests desiring hearings before the close of these sessions June 12, the committee arranged today for separate hearings before an examiner beginning tomorrow.

SINK NORWEGIAN STEAMER

Christiansand, Norway, May 29., via London.—The Norwegian steamer Norway, 1,477 tons, was sunk by gunfire Saturday while on her way to her home port. The crew were rescued by a passing steamer.

MAY USE WOMEN ON FARMS

Washington, May 29.—Women and girls may be used for light farm work under the department of agriculture's plan for enlisting a volunteer work army for the harvest season. Women would be employed, the department announced today, to feed and care for harvest hands or extra labor, and to can and dry surplus perishable products.

WILSON MAY HAVE TO APPEAL FOR SOLDIERS

Officials Say Present Rate of Eulistment Must Be Increased

War Department Officials Point to Figures That The Volunteer System Has Broken Down Again in Time of National Emergency

Washington, May 29—War department officials are pointing to the daily recruiting figures as proof anew that the volunteer system again has broken down in time of emergency.

Yesterday's regular army recruiting brought in 2,237 men, making a total of 87,518 since April 1. Illinois was first with 300 and New York second with 295. Despite the fact that the nation is at war and American regulars are under orders for the fighting front in France less than 200,000 men have enlisted since April 1, in the regulars and national guard.

The present rate of enlistment—1200 to 1500 a day—officials say must be increased to 10,000 or 20,000 a day if the forces which in all probability will be among the first to follow Major General Pershing's division to Europe, are to go forward promptly. An appeal to the country from the president may be necessary to get the men.

The National Guard is in even worse situation. The present total strength of the force is less than 200,000 and raised to a war footing as has been ordered, should total 330,000. In addition the sixteen national guard division plan, on which the war department is working would require nearly as many more to fill necessary additional regiments. The most striking fact in connection with the recruiting rate for the regulars, officers say is that even the announcement that General Pershing would lead a division to France without delay failed utterly to stimulate enlistment. The daily average recruiting has dwindled daily.

TIE UP BLOOMINGTON STREET CAR TRAFFIC

All Except Three Running Between Bloomington and Normal are Taken to Barns

Bloomington, Ill., May 29—Street car traffic was practically tied up tonight as the result of the strike called by the car men's union Monday night. All of the cars with the exception of three running between Bloomington and Normal were taken to the barns at 7 o'clock tonight leaving practically the entire city without car service. Superintendent D. W. Snyder, who, fearing the men and public generally were as yet without adequate police protection, deemed it advisable to take no chances. The cars that were kept in operation today were rode by detectives hired by the company.

The members of the car men's union asesert that they do not countenance violence or destruction of property and have so warned their members.

They further asserted today while in conference with Mayor E. E. Jones, their fight against the company for recognition of the union will be along the lines of discouraging patronage and of encouraging the men now at work to join the union.

ENGLAND SENDS MISSION TO RUSSIA

LONDO, May 29—It is officially announced that Arthur Henderson, member of the British cabinet without port folio and of the war council, has undertaken an important government mission to Russia and that George Nicholl Barnes, minister of pensions, has been apointed a member of the war cabinet without port folio during Mr Henderson's absence.

Mr. Barnes who now enters the war cabinet as the representative of labor in place of Mr. Henderson has since August 1914 been a strong advocate of the vigorous prosecution of the war.

Altho he enters the council temporarily, it is understood it will be necessary to appoint a new pensions minister who may involve further ministerial changes.

Another event considered almost certain to be announced very shortly is the resignation of Lord Devonport, the food controller. Lord Devonport's health is poor and it is understood he is desirous of retiring.

RAILROADS SUFFER LOSS IN PROFIT

Chicago, May 29.—Despite the fact that the American railroads showed a gain of $79,000,000 in traffic in the first quarter of 1917, they suffered a loss of $26,000,000 in profit in comparison with the same period of a year ago, according to an announcement today by the bureau of railway news and statistics.

BELIEVE GERMANS CAUSE DRAFT PLOTS

Officials Undertake Exhaustive Probe of Anti-Draft Sentiment

ATTORNEY GENERAL ACTS

Gregory Instructs Officials To Arrest and Prosecute All Persons Responsible

INVITES CO-OPERATION

WASHINGTON, May 29.—Attorney General Gregory today instructed United States attorneys and marshals thruout the country to use their utmost efforts to arrest and prosecute all parties responsible for the agitation which has manifested itself in localities from New England to Texas against the registration June 5 of men subject to selective draft.

Officials Investigate Agitation

This agitation has made itself felt somewhat in many sections but thus far there apparently is little connection between the outbreaks. Officials have undertaken an exhaustive investigation to determine if the whole anti-draft sentiment is not rooted in extensive machinations of German propagandists in this country having a central headquarters.

Color to this theory is lent in some degree by the marked similarity of the methods of procedure in widely separated communities. Some officials believe the entire agitation is manufactured by German agents who, baffled in their original program calling for an armed uprising of German reservists in this country upon America's entry into the war, have turned their energies to this method of hindering the government's military plans.

Expects Full Registration

The department of justice is was authoritatively announced tonight expects virtually 100 percent of eligibles to register and prompt prosecution under the criminal provisions of the law will be instituted in the few cases where the law is not observed.

To bring out the full registration, Attorney General Gregory today invited the entire nation to constitute itself a committee of the whole and every man of military age, a committee of one to report slackers.

"Every man subject to registration is not only expected by the department of justice to comply with the law," reads an official statement, "but also to constitute himself a committee of one in his community to see that each of his acquaintances who should register does so."

Gregory Invites Co-operation

Attorney General Gregory invites all young men of the country to cooperate in the enforcement of the law as a part of their patriotic duty.

The department is having its officers thruout the country arrest promptly all agitators against compliance with the law.

"The department is not dependent entirely upon its agencies to discover disloyal activity. State and municipal police are co-operating and members of national patriotic and commercial organizations are engaged in bringing to the attention of the United States attornies and marshals all instances of efforts to discourage registration. These several agencies will be on duty June 5, honeycombing the country to see that every man subject to registration complies with the law and that every official delegated to carry out its provisions performs his duty properly. All these officials will be protected in the performance of their duty, heavily protected in communities where agitation has manifested itself. Instructions have been sent to all United States attorneys and marshalls calling attention to persons "evading or encouraging evasion of the lew."

May Claim Exemption

Men who wish exemption from draft may claim it before local exemption boards regardless of whether they answer "yes" or "no" to the question, "do you claim exemption from draft?"

"The answer 'yes' to this question does not exempt one from draft" said Provost Marshal General Crowder tonight, "and the answer 'no' is no bar to making a claim for exemption later."

President Wilson's war message of April 2 will be handed to every man who registers as he leaves the registration place by women working under the direction of the women's committee of the Council of National Defense.

PRESIDENT WILSON PARDONS SULLIVAN

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., May 29.—United States Marshal V. Y. Dahlman of this city tonight received a teltgram from Attorney General Gregory at Washington, announcing that President Wilson had pardoned Percy D. Sullivan, former president of the Assureds' Mutual Fire Insurance company, under sentaence on a charge of using the mails to defraud. Sullivan was convicted in Springfield a few months ago and has been reprieved several times.

CONGRESSMAN RANKIN MAKES GOOD POINT.

Congressman Jeanette Rankin's maiden speech in congress won support and "the lady from Montana" succeeded in having an amendment added to the food survey bill in accordance with her ideas. Her well taken point was that women should be used in many instances in collecting food data provided for in the bill. The request was reasonable because many women well qualified for this work can be found and by doing the work they will make it possible for a like number of men to be engaged in work for which women are not fitted. Furthermore, women are desirous of showing their patriotism and this opportunity to aid the government will afford them the means of practically demonstrating their patriotic instincts.

Incidentally it can be stated that Congressman Rankin's course thus far has been of a dignified, well ordered kind. Her course has not indicated a desire to capitalize her unique position in being the first congresswoman to serve in this great country, and she has manifested all along an earnest desire to measure up fully to the responsibilities of the important office that she holds.

GOETHALS WILL HAVE HIS WAY.

It is stated that the misunderstanding which may have resulted between Chairman Denman of the shipping board and Gen. Goethals as a result of the general's recent speech in New York has been cleared up. In that speech Gen. Goethals made the open statement that the projected program of constructing a great number of wooden ships was not practical and that steel must be utilized. This position was not in accord with the ideas the shipping board was thought to have held and a subsequent statement by Chairman Denman was taken as criticism of General Goethals.

The American public has such entire confidence in the judgment and ability of General Goethals, based upon his record in the Panama canal, that when he said that wooden ships were not practical the statement was taken as final. Certainly this great engineer's ideas must be followed by the shipping board if that board is to have the confidence of the public. And it is worth while to know that General Goethals has now been given full authority by the board to carry out whatever plan he deems best. The record of this man is such that the insinuation by Chairman Denman that he was influenced by a leaning toward the steel corporation fell upon deaf ears. Without Goethals as engineer the shipping board would be a nonentity as far as valuable war preparations are concerned.

MORGAN COUNTY JURY LISTS.

The evidence presented in the circuit court this morning may indicate that the jury list as drawn by the county board is not in accordance with law. It is claimed that certain citizens sought to influence the board in selecting the 800 or 1,000 names which should go in the jury box. Be that as it may, for years past it has been common knowledge that the drawing of Morgan county jury lists was not above criticism.

Year after year the records will show that in many instances the same men have served as members of the grand jury and they will also show a strange recurrence of names of men serving on the petit jury. This would not be surprising in the case of the common law venire, for in summoning men under such an order the sheriff serves papers upon spectators in the court room or upon men accosted in the business district. But when the same men appear term after term on the regular jury lists it is quite apparent that a considerable amount of "hand picking" has been done by somebody.

So the petition just presented may not be out of place and investagation as to jury list methods thru years past might be interesting and profitable.

TO HONOR THE SOLDIER DEAD

With ceremonies that will be given an added touch of solemnity and impressiveness by the situation now confronting the nation Memorial Day will be observed today on a more elaborate scale than ever before. From the Atlantic to the Pacific the nation's heroes will be honored by a loyal and loving people. From the time the sun rises over the hills of Maine until it sinks to rest beyond the mountains of California the vast extent of the land will echo with the bugle call, the rattle of drums and the firing of salutes. The youth of the nation will get a lesson in patriotism when they lay a wreath of flowers on the stone that marks a soldier's grave.

Elaborate preparations have been completed for the observance in the national capital. Business will be suspended for the day, not only by the departments of the government, but also thruout the city. People of all classes will unite in perpetuating the memory of the heroic dead, who in countless thousands sleep peacefully in the national cemeteries of the District of Columbia.

As in previous years the official observance of the day will center in the exercises to be held in the Arlington National Cemetery the beautiful burying ground across the Potomac, where sleep more than 20,000 of the country's dead. Federal officers and soldiers and Confederate officers and soldiers side by side.

President Wilson has been invited by the Grand Army of the Republic to deliver the oration of the day at Arlington. Other speakers of national prominence also will be heard. In the Maine section of the cemetery a special program of exercises will be carried out under the auspices of the Army and Navy union. Here the speakers will include Dr. Carlos Manuel de Cespedes, the Cuban minister in Washington, and Representative W. Frank James of Michigan.

Another impressive feature of the Memorial day observance in Washington is to be a "devotion to God and country" demonstration, which is intended to give public expression to the patriotic spirit of the Catholics of the United States. Leaders in public affairs are to be speakers, and nearly every Catholic society in the East will be represented. Here in Jacksonville services of a noteworthy kind have been planned.

WAR PROHIBITION NOW.

One of the most reasonable arguments made for prohibition during the period of the war appears in the current issue of the Independent under the heading, "War Prohibition Now." It is noticeable in reading papers and periodicals that there is a growing sentiment for war prohibition in some form. The Chicago Tribune is editorially advocating abolishing manufacture of "hard liquors"—that is, whiskey and liquors of that class—during the war period, both for the reason that foodstuffs would thus be saved, and furthermore, that mentality and vitality of young men would be conserved. Other metropolitan papers are taking a somewhat similar stand, their belief being that it would probably be better to permit the manufacture of beer and light wines and to prohibit the making of hard liquors. The Independent's view of the question is as follows:

The argument for prohibition is clean-cut, simple and direct.

The drinking of alcohol never produced for any normal individual positive good—in health, efficiency, power or happiness.

The drinking of alcohol does produce for countless individuals and for society positive evil—in disease, loss of efficiency, impairment of power, vice, crime and unhappiness. The best that can be said for the drinking of alcohol is that it affords pleasure, gratification and sociability. The evils that it produces constitute too heavy a price for the community to pay for these epicurean benefits.

This is the story in time of peace. In time of war the indictment against alcoholic liquor becomes tremendously graver. In such times as now confront the world the emphasis shifts from the effect of the drinking of liquor to the effect of the making of liquor.

The cold fact is that liquor is made from food, and in this day of the world every people which is at war is suffering for lack of food. Here and now the question becomes one, not between indulgence and abstinence, between pleasure and self-denial, between personal liberty and tyranny, between virtue and vice, between health and disease—but between food and drink.

Shall the many have food, or the few have drink? That is the question.

Last year there were used in the United States in the making of distilled spirits thirty two million bushels of corn, three million bushels of rye, four and a half million bushels of malt, made from barley, and one hundred and fifty-two million gallons of molasses. There are the official figures. A careful estimate made by prominent professors of economics in Harvard and Yale universities show that there were used last year in the manufacture of fermented liquors in the U. S. thirteen million bushels of corn, fifty-four million bushels of malt, and seventeen million bushels of barley.

If as much as one-sixth of the grand total of these foodstuffs were to be used in the manufacture of alcohol for industrial purposes, the saving in foodstuffs would be sufficient to supply the energy required of seven million men for one year.

Cutting off one half of our production of distilled and fermented liquors would save enough foodstuff to provide eleven million loaves of bread a day.

What are we going to do about it? Are we all to suffer for lack of food in order that some of us may continue to get pleasure out of drink?

A time of national crisis like this is a time for national and individual self-sacrifice. We shall all make sacrifices not so much because we must as because we will. The spirit of the American people is right. But the sense of the American people must be kept right also. To sacrifice bread for beer, food for whiskey, would be utter folly and wickedness.

Let us follow England's example and cut down immediately the number of pounds of foodstuffs that we permit to be made into drink.

REGISTRATION POINTS.

In its campaign to stimulate interest in registration June 5 for the war army, the state department has issued a memorandum emphasizing the seven cardinal points to be remembered, particularly by men between the ages of 21 and 30 inclusive, who will be required to register. The memorandum follows:

1. There is only ONE day for registration, JUNE 5, 1917.

2. Every male resident of the United States who has reached his 21st and not reached his 31st birthday must register on the day set, June 5, 1917. The only exceptions are persons in the military or naval service of the United States, which includes all officers and enlisted men of the regular army, the regular army reserve, the officers' reserve corps, the enlisted reserve corps, the National Guard and National Guard Reserve, recognized by the militia bureau of the war department; the navy, the marine corps, the coast guard and the naval militia, the naval reserve force, the marine corps reserve and the national volunteers, recognized by the navy department.

3. Registration is distinct from draft. No matter what just claim you have for exemption, you must register.

It Is a Public Duty.

4. Registration is a public duty. For those not responsive to the sense of this duty, the penalty of imprisonment, not fine, is provided in the draft act.

5. Those who thru sickness shall be unable to register should cause a representative to apply to the county or city clerk for a copy of the registration card. The clerk will give instructions as to how this card should be filled out. The card should then be mailed by the sick person, or delivered by his agent, to the registrar of his home district. The sick person will enclose a self-addressed stamped envelope for the return to him of his registration certificate.

6. Any person who expects to be absent from his voting precinct on registration day should apply as soon as practicable, for a registration card to the county clerk of the county where he may be stopping, or if he is in a city of over thirty thousand to the city clerk. The clerk will record the answers on the card and turn it over to the absentee. The absentee should mail this card to the registrar of his home district so that it will reach that official by registration day. A self-addressed, stamped envelope should be enclosed with the card to insure the return to the absentee of a registration certificate.

7. Registration booths will be open from 7 a. m. to 9 p. m. on registration day, June 5, 1917.

TO THE HEROES OF THE SIXTIES

When we look up to those stars,
That you carried thru the wars,
Comes a swelling and a choking
in the throat;
And a vision rises true,
Of the boys in army blue,
Who left Morgan with the Stars and Stripes afloat.

Back there flashes thru the years
That sad scene of woe and tears,
When our nation struggled in the throes of birth;
While men stood with bated breath
Soldier boys were facing death,
It was then the lads of Morgan proved their worth.

When were o'er war's dread alarms,
And there ceased the clank of arms,
And the boys were mustered out
of ranks of blue,
With your duty done at last,
Wet eyes watched you as you passed,
As we welcomed home again the scattering few.

Then you stood grim battle's test,
Now we'll not withhold our best,
To repay you for the deafening
cannon's roar;
But we'll make the brave boys glad,
Nor forget a single lad,
But in Morgan's heart we'll shrine
you evermore.

Then upon the mounds of green,
While the brave few walk between,
With a loving hand we'll lay our rose and vine;
While the Stars they helped to save
Shall be left o'er them to wave,
O'er the heroes of the sixties shall they wave.

Made in Germany

There was a wondrous war machine, the most tremendous ever seen, with cannon, gun and submarine, and it was made in Germany. "A place we're seeking in the sun, and with our sword and bomb and gun, we'll rule the planet ere we're done"; the boast was made in Germany. The ruler stalked with haughty tread, his eyes were ever seeing red, and bats were buzzing in his head; the bats were made in Germany. He kicked up war, and for long years he bathed the world in blood and tears, and startled all adjoining spheres, with weapons made in Germany. He took on enemies each day, and hailed them gladly in the fray, and shot them up with bales of hay, and sauerkraut made in Germany. Great Britain, Italy and France, and Russia—these he saw advance, and held them level with his lance, and bludgeon made in Germany. And minor countries, group by group, went at the kaiser with a whoop; he handed each a bowl of soup, which broth was made in Germany. "Since I am whipping all these skates," the ruler gayly cried, "wie gehts! I'll take on the United States!" This break was made in Germany. Soon Uncle Sam, incensed by wrongs, will seize him with a pair of tongs, and put him where his nobs belongs—in a boob house made in Germany.

NO VERDICT REACHED IN HARRISON CASE

Defendant Admitted Firing Shot Which Killed Sanford Sutton—Claimed Action Was Accidental—Jury Out All Night

The trial of McKinley Harrison, who was indicted for the murder of Sanford Sutton, began in the circuit court Tuesday morning before Judge Jones. The evidence and argument were concluded late in the afternoon and the case was given to the jury about 5:30 o'clock after the instructions had been read by Judge Jones. The jury was still out when the Journal went to press and there is a possibility that no verdict will be reached. The case, as previously stated, is based upon the fact that on June 11, 1916, McKinley Harrison discharged a revolver in such a way that a ball entered the left breast of Sanford Sutton and killed him.

Admitted Shooting

Harrison took the stand in his own defense, and told of making a purchase of whiskey from Jesse Ratliff at Conrad's place which he, Sutton and some others drank. He then related a visit to Patterson's pool room on West Morgan street and told of their later walk along West Morgan street, when the revolver was discharged. The defendant admitted the shooting but declared that it was accidental, that he had no quarrel with Sanford Sutton, and, in fact, that the dead man had long been his friend.

The defendant's mother and brother were among the witnesses and J. G. Reynolds was called to the stand to testify as to some evidence given at the coroner's inquest. Former State's Attorney W. N. Hairgrove after he had volunteered some information to the court, was sworn in as a witness and testified to statements made at the inquest. State's Attorney Robinson did not ask the death penalty but presented argument in an endeavor to show that Harrison was drunk at the time of the shooting and that because of that condition he was by no means to be held blameless.

Paul Samuell in defending Harrison laid emphasis upon the friendly feeling that had existed between his client and Sanford Sutton, declared that there was no evidence to show that there was a quarrel of any kind and that therefore a motive was lacking for any attack. He declared that his client's story of accidental shooting was substantiated by the evidence.

FARM NOTES

Dairymen Want Higher Prices for Products

High prices for feed have increased the problems of dairymen, according to statement recently made by S. E. Prather of the Sangamon County Farmers' association. In a recent statement Mr. Prather said that unless the dairy business is standardized and placed upon a more substantial bases so that the owners can receive a reasonable profit, the certain result will be the dispersing of many dairy herds. Mr. Prather was asking for the support of the Springfield Commercial association in an effort to provide a plan for the co-operative buying of feed stuffs or to secure higher prices for dairy products. The question is considered of interest to the Springfield Commercial association because it is recognized that dairy farming is of great benefit to the country. In his statement Mr. Prather said:

"The great increase in the costs of the feed for dairy herds has made the producing cost of milk and butter climb higher and higher, while the dairymen have not received relief from an increase in the selling price of their commodities. They must either work out some plan of co-operation in buying of feeds, get higher prices for milk, or quit."

Streets Quiet During Day.

The streets of East St. Louis were quiet today and on the surface there was no evidence of the riotous scenes of last night when negroes were dragged from street cars, beaten and shot. The riots followed a meeting at which speakers discussed the effect of the importation of negro laborers on crime. Many recent crimes have been charged to the negroes.

Fearing trouble again tonight Mayor Mollman called on Governor Lowden of Illinois for troops and took precautions to prevent the formation of mobs.

DEFENSE BATTALION TENTATIVELY ACCEPTED

SPRINGGFIELD, Ill., May 29.—The first regiment of infantry for the Illinois home defense brigade, authorization for which is pending in the legislature, was accepted by Adjutant General Dickson tentatively today, after practically every one of the officers of the outfit all from downstate, called upon the adjutant general.

The provisional regiment, without machine gun company, is commanded by Col. C. E. Ryman of Effingham and already has a roster of officers for twelve companies.

Company stations are at Robinson, Lawrenceville, Mt. Carmel, Carmi, Flora, Salem, Mt Vernon, McLeansboro, Marion and Murphysboro.

Col. Ryman told Adjutant General Dickson his regiment wanted to fight in France but would accept a place in the home defense battalion if that later on might lead to active fighting in France.

EFIICIENCY CAMPAIGN BEGINS AT LYNNVILLE

Special Services at Christian Church Will Continue Thru Sunday—J. L. Scolfield in Charge.

The church efficeincy campaign arranged for the Christian church of Lynnville began Tuesday and will continue thru Sunday, June 3. James L. Scolfield of Peoria is the specialist in charge. As previously mentioned Mr. Scolfield was for a number of years a successful Y. M. C. A. secretary and has had long experience as an organizer for evangelistic campaigns and in Christian work, especially among boys and men.

For his address last night a large audience assembled and they found Mr. Scolfield's discussion of "Values" very helpful. In gripping words he showed how values were misapplied, and the real objects of greatest values lost sight of. He designated the desire for money, honor, pleasure and power as the greatest values, detestable and criminal, over against the home, our boys, our girls, and the church of Jesus Christ, which are the greatest values. "We are here," he said, "to make our homes what they can be, by instructing our children in the path of righteousness and woe unto him who offends one of these little ones. 'It were better that a millstone were hanged about his neck and cast into the depth of the sea.' It will be awful for such a one to meet the Judge of the great judgment day."

The second meeting of the series will be held tonight at 7 o'clock, when "Three Foundation Stones," will be the theme. Mr. Scofield has conducted efficiency meetings of this kind at a large number of churches and in each instance the work done has been attended by satisfactory results.

LARGE CROWD PRESENT FOR J. H. S. CLASS DAY

SENIORS TURN OVER SCHOOL LIFE LEADERSHIP TO JUNIORS

Honor Pupils From High School's Largest Class on Program of Unusual Interest—Vein of Seriousness Thruout Exercises Which Were at Once Clever and Joyful

A class day program of more than usual significance was rendered by graduates of J. H. S. Tuesday afternoon in David Prince Theatre. The audience was among the largest which had ever assembled there and each number voiced in some way a spirit of loyalty to this largest of classes in Jacksonville High school history. The presence of the two honor speakers at this time instead of on the commencement program and the elimination of the presentation of trophies to the juniors gave an air of seriousness which has not been the rule with class day programs.

The program was begun at 2 o'clock with the president's address by Earl Priest. Miss Cora Cherry then gave the salutatory address and John Badger took the floor as historian of the class, reciting the history of '17 in interesting manner.

In presenting the record book to the juniors, Miss Ruth Hillerby called attention to the athletic and litary attainments for which '17 has been distinguished, bequeathing all to the 1918 class. School activities will continue, even with the absence of the junior's upper-class friends, said McKendree Blair in receiving the volume on behalf of '18.

An Original Prophecy

The class prophecy by Anna W. Palmer was especially clever, deviating as it did from the conventional practice of predicting a roseate future for each and every member of the class. Some seem destined for roles of comparative obscurity, according to Miss Palmer. The phophecy was written with the pungent style of a modern American short story and this feature of the program was followed with close attention.

The reading by Miss Bernice Wood was from every standpoint of criticism very well done. Miss Wood is a reader of fluency and dramatic strength and the successes already won by her speak well for her future in the art of expression.

Frank Bonansinga, in the class will, formally turned over the many qualities, good and bad, which distinguish individual seniors for the use and enjoyment of the class following. A part of the will was written in a serious vein, but from time to time there came outbursts of wit and humor. Mr. Callihan was appointed executor of the instrument.

The Class Poem

Miss Laura Smith, the class poet, after speaking of the voyage of the good ship "Progress" concluded with the stanza:

"Sure, this is no time for crying,
"For this is the goal we have gained.
"Why should we all take to groaning?
"We all should feel glad and not pained!
"When a person has climbed up the mountain
"And Crossed Rugged Rocks in His task
"And at last he stands on the summit.
"To be joyful is all he should ask."

Albert Dewitt, the winner of first honors, spoke and then the program was closed by the singing of a class song, written for the music of "A Perfect Day," by Miss Carol Hall and sung by Miss Hall, Miss Catherine Rapp, Mr. Bonansinga and William Hudson.

The Salutatory Address

Miss Cora Cherry, the winner of second honors in the class this year, gave to the audience a word of welcome greeting and proceeded then with a discussion of the theme "Vocational Education." She gave a historical outline of vocational education, discussing its growth in America and mentioning state and federal laws which have passed to promote it. It has been feared by some that vocational studies would displace liberal education but in true vocational training there are so many elements that this would be impossible, asserted the speaker.

In conclusion Miss Cherry said: With these views of vocational training before us we see in the establishment of such training results which will be far-reaching in their effects upon the increased efficiency of our future workers and a better condition of our citizens. Each of these results is worthy of our utmost efforts in working toward its realization, and we should unite all our strength in overcoming every obstacle which in any way prevents the accomplishment of our undertaking.

The Greatest American

Albert DeWitt, the valedictory speaker, called attention to the part played by the president and closed with reference to "Woodrow Wilson, the Greatest Living American."

In an hour of national peril and international strife, all eyes were turned toward the man at the helm of the ship of state—the president," said Mr. Dewitt in beginning his address. "How carefully must he guide that ship thru stormy seas" How difficult it is for him when criticized by all he continues unflinchingly to be guided by his own conscience. Such men in the past have made our nation great. Such men at present are making history." In this connection the valedictorian mentioned the Hay-Pauncefote treaty and the controversy over the Panama canal tolls act. He praised the president for the non-aggressive policy shown toward Mexico and South America. "Under a less just and wise administration, the Mexicans might have been enslaved." Regarding the president's policies at home the speaker continued: "The president's domestic policies are all efforts to keep opportunity open to mankind and to keep all kinds and conditions of men animated by hope and progress."

A Man of Patience

"After all diplomatic means had been employed for settling our differences amicably and after the kind and loving patience of our great president was gone, he went sadly before congress and asked them to enter a war for democracy and American honor. Democracy picked up the glove German Kaiserdom had flung in her face and returned it with a stinging blow.

"The president's entire disrespect for precedents, simply because they are precedents, heralds the dawn of a more democratic day. As the representative of the American people he is without an equal. Let us hail the most democratic, the most kind, the most loving, the most sympathetic, the most generous, the most unselfish man of all the American nation. After history has written his name on a clean white page with a sense of justice, she will dip her pen in the golden beams of the sun-rays and write across the azure blue 'Woodrow Wilson, the Greatest Living American.'"

ROBERT LEE SKINNER LOSES HIS SPEECH

Well Known Local Mail Carrier Who Is to Go to Chicago Appropriately Remembered by Post Office Associates.

Robert Lee Skinner lost his speech at the postoffice about 8 o'clock Tuesday evening. It was only for a few moments however, and today he is in his usual health.

Mr. Skinner is one of the popular carriers of the local office and expects to leave today for Chicago, where he will be in the carrier service at Garfield Park station.

In view of his change of residence his fellow employes decided to show their appreciation of his many good qualities. So they confided their plans to Postmaster Ralph I. Dunlap. Tuesday afternoon Mr. Dunlap told Mr. Skinner he would like to have him come down to the office about 8 o'clock Tuesday evening. Mr. Dunlap said he wanted to give him a letter and talk over some matters with him.

The other employes gathered in the basement and after Mr. Skinner got settled in the postmaster's office they slipped in one by one until the entire force was present. Then Mr. Dunlap in an appropriate speech presented Mr. Skinner with a handsome black leather traveling bag. "Bob" was speechless for a short time but recoverd himself and responded in a fitting manner.

Robert L. Skinner entered the employ of the postoffice in 1908. On May 1st of that year he was appointed a substitute carrier. July 21, 1910 he was made a regular carrier. He is known as carrier No. 2 and carries one of the business districts. Mr. Skinner is a member of the Knights of Pythias, the Red Men and D. O. K. K. He has been one of the most efficient carriers in the local office and deservedly popular with his fellow employes.

In going to Chicago Mr. Skinner makes what is known in the department as a mutual exchange. He changes places with Fred H. Hirz, who will become a carrier in the local office. By a strange coincidence Mr. Hirz entered postal work in the same year as did Mr. Skinner. He was appointed substitute carrier and a regular carrier in the same years, tho there is some difference in the months. He began his work in Canton and transferred to Chicago but has a desire to get back to a smaller city.

CHARGES JURY LIST IS IMPROPERLY DRAWN

W. N. Hairgrove Claims That Persons Other Than County Board Members Named Prospective Jurors—Evidence Will Be Taken Before Judge Jones Today

In the circuit court this morning hearing will be had on the formal charge filed yesterday by William N. Hairgrove that the present jury list is improperly drawn. Mr. Hairgrove, as attorney for Wood Woolery, whose trial for the murder of "Treetops" McDonald is set for today, filed the notice referred to, directed against State's Attorney Carl E. Robinson. This notice sets forth that Mr. Hairgrove will enter a challenge to the array of jurors alleging that there were irregularities in selecting the jury list, and that in fact the list of jurors as placed in the jury box was not the choice of the county board. He maintains that the jurors were selected by persons who are not members of the board.

Will Hear Evidence

Attorney Hairgrove will challenge the panel, therefore, on the ground that the statutes were not complied with and that, therefore, the interests of his client have been jeopardized. Under this procedure Judge Jones this morning will hear evidence and on the basis of the facts shown will give his opinion as to whether or not the jury list is properly drawn. If the decision is that the law was not followed, then all the names in the list will be thrown out and it will be the duty of the county board to at once proceed with the selection of another list. Without such a list of jurors to draw from it will be impossible for the business of the term to proceed insofar as any cases are concerned wherein a jury is required.

About 1000 Names in List

No names are mentioned in the charge filed by Mr. Hairgrove but it is understood that he alleges that Mayor H. J. Rodgers, Rev. W. E. Spoonts and State's Attorney Robinson were very active in the selection of the jury list. It is said that he will maintain that the persons mentioned went over the poll books and prepared a list of names they considered desirable as jurors and that these names were submitted to the county board and subsequently became part of the jury list.

Under the law it is the duty of the county board to select a jury list containing the names of approximately one tenth of the male voting population of the county. This means in Morgan county a list of from 850 to 1,000 names. The ordinary procedure is for the county board to go thru the names on the poll books, make the selection and then to transmit these names to the circuit clerk, who proceeds to draw panels therefrom whenever occasion requires. When the list of names has been exhausted it then becomes the duty of the county board to make other selections.

Many Exempt from Service

It is said that in the past members of the county board have frequently talked with other county officials or with persons not serving in official capacities who had wider acquaintance with the voters than they did themselves. Under the law there are a great many persons entitled to vote who are exempt from the jury service and it is said that advice has sometimes been sought in order to avoid choosing names of those exempt under the law.

In the present case it is understood that members of the county board will be called upon to testify as to the procedure followed and that Mayor Rodgers, Judge W. E. Thomson and State's Attorney Robinson will also testify. Rev. W. E. Spoonts is in Texas and cannot be subpoenaed at this time. Mr. Hairgrove stated yesterday that his only purpose was to secure a fair and impartial trial for his client and furthermore that he did not wish to try the case before a "hand-picked" jury.

PARK BOARD NOTES

The park board met Tuesday evening for the transaction of routine business. The committee appointed to make improvements in the dressing rooms at the Nichols park pavilion reported that curtains had been hung, rugs secured and the walls of the rooms painted.

Reference was made to the delay in receipt of first ward playground apparatus. A mistake was made in the shipping of the equipment but it is expected within a short time.

An order was made that automobiles parked at Nichols park must be placed north of the eating pavilion fronting to the west on the east side of the driveway.

No decision was reached with reference to Central park lighting and a special committee will meet Thursday night with G. A. Sieber to consider the matter.

Park employes were instructed to gather up bottles, paper or other rubbish found in the parks as early as possible each day in order that the general appearance of the parks may be kept up.

On account of Decoration Day we will close at noon.

CHINA PLANS TO ERECT STATUE OF AMERICAN

Late Secretary of State Hay to Be Honored for Establishing "Open Door" Policy—Chinese Educated In America Second Motion that Bill Be Adopted Providing for Statue.

Peking, May — (Correspondence of The Associated Press)—Sincere appreciation of the services rendered to China by the late John Hay, American Secretary of State, in establishing the "open door" policy and protecting that country from dismemberment by European powers was expressed in a measure which has been introduced into the Chinese Senate to provide for the erection of a bronze statue of Mr. Hay.

Recognition also is accorded in the bill to the great service which Mr. Hay r endered to China in proposing the refunding of the Boxer indemnities.

Among those proposing the memorial was C. T. Wang, Vice President of the Chinese senate; a graduate of Yale University. Several other Chinese who were educated in America seconded the motion that the bill be adopted. In describing Mr. Hay's services to China, the proponents of the measure asserted:

John Hay China's Friend

"It was the late Mr. John Hay who, hearing of the proposal of the European powers to develop and mark out for themselves their respective spheres of influence in China, made representations to the governments of Great Britain, Russia France, Japan, Italy, etc., suggesting that China should be enabled to adopt an "open door" policy with regard to foreign powers, as, in his opinion the development of 'spheres of influence' was sure to lead to a breach of the peace in the Far East. Fortunately, the governments of the European powers supported Mr. Hay's idea, and as a result, a common understanding was arrived at between the powers, which gave rise to a state of political equilibrium known as the 'balance of power', and secured peace for the Far East. Therefore, it was a great service that Mr. Hay rendered to China.

"Again, after the boxer trouble was over, when our government was required to pay enormous indemities to the foreign powers, Mr. Hay proposed to the governments of these powers that they should refund to China a portion of the indemnities after retaining what was deemed necessary to make good the loss to public and private property. But the foreign powers did not give their consent to this proposal, so that the United States had to carry out the idea alone. The amount of money to be thus refunded by the United States was, not including interest, $10,785,200 gold, and since 1909 a considerable sum has already been paid back to China. We are now using this money for educational purposes, that is, for the maintenance of the Tsing Hua College, etc. In the third year of the Republic the United States government further refunded to us a sum of $1,100,000 out of a total of $2,000,000 gold which China had paid to the United States as compensation for loss to private property, which sum we are now using for the support of Chinese students studying in that country. This was the second great service that Mr. Hay rendered to China.

"Thus it will be seen that Mr. Hay has given us cause for feeling really grateful to him. We ought to erect a bronze statue in his honor in order to show to posterity our sincere appreciation of Mr. Hay's meritorious services to China."

FROM THE EDUCATOR'S NOTEBOOK

It is the aim of the University of Minnesota to become the center of the greatest collection of Scandinavian literature and art in America. To the already very valuable Swedish library of the institution, there were added during the past year 2000 volumes, which include the reports of the Swedish riksdag (congress) for the last 50 years, and the reports of Swedish government agents on the educational systems of the world.

There is more than meets the eye in the simple announcement that the late Leland Stanford's famous herd of 40,000 Holstein cattle is to be sold by auction next month. This great herd is one of the things which the former United States senator bequeathed to the university which bears his name. For years it has been kept intact on the Vina range, but it has not been profitable. In fact a number of the Californian university's far-flung and diversified properties have been unremunerative, so that the trustees have now decided to reconstruct and concentrate the investment of an endowment fund currently reported to be close to $50,000,000.

The annual gathering of the Associated Harvard Clubs at the National capital this week will take on the color of the times, and to be more of a patriotic and war affair than a "college pow-wow." Stories of the fighting in Europe by men who have been on the fighting line—and the showing of America's oldest university in the number of such men has been remarkable—will be the program of a first informal evening at the New Willard Hotel, June 1. On the second evening addresses will be made by Secretary of Agriculture David F. Houston, Assistant Secretary of the Navy Franklin D. Roosevelt, Assistant Secretary of State William Phillips, Charles S. Hamlin of the Federal Reserve Board, Prof. F. W. Taussig, chairman of the federal tariff commission; Elliot Wadsworth of the American Red Cross and A. W. Shaw of the commercial economy board.

The "School of the Sons of the Empire," an ancient Chinese university which, it is claimed, was in existence a thousand years before the Christian era, can boast of a "stone library," comprising 182 tablets of stone on which are carved the complete "thirteen classics" which are the essence of Chinese literature. The reason for the carving of the classics on stone was done because in that way they were safer from destruction at the hands of vandals than if carved on wood or written on parchment. In the imperial lecture hall of this "School of the Sons of the Empire," situated at Peking, took place for several centuries a ceremony, abandoned only in the 18th century, which showed the extraordinary respect in which Old China held its educators. Once a year the emperor would go to the school to hear a discourse on the responsibilities and duties of his office and to receive reproof and exhortation from the heads of the institution, in other words, to "take his lesson" in government.

A bill has been introduced in the Hawaiian Legislature providing that the Department of Public Instruction, in selecting new school teachers, give preference to men and women who are citizens of the territory. In former years the department has employed a large number of teachers brought from the United States, the majority of the teachers on the island, in fact, has been of such. The bill is significant of changing conditions, and shows the permanent "taking root" of the American residents of the "Paradise of the Pacific." Enough of their number may now be found to educate Hawaii. Another bill before the Hawaiian legislature provides for a minimum of $50 a month for public school teachers.

Nearly a score of famous pilots are resting today, getting a last tonic before their clash for a fortune in the big sweepstakes race. Ralph Mulford, Barney Oldfield, Eddie Hearne, Ralph DePalma, Louis Chevrolet, Earl Cooper and Dave Lewis are among the celebrated drivers who are to compete in the big event. FAREWELL WORDS TO HIGH SCHOOL PUPILS

Members of Class of 1917 Heard Final Words of Advice from Supt. Perrin and Principal Callihan.

The pupils of the high school gathered at the auditorium yesterday morning for a farewell exercise. Principal Callihan called the assembly together and indeed the occasion was peculiar and interesting. The hundreds of bright young people assembled in the spacious apartment caused one to reflect on the great possibilities in that audience and to think too of the work for which they have been fitting themselves. They presented a spectacle not soon to be forgotten and one calculated to fill with pride the heart of any one interested in the welfare and progress of the young. A brief outline of the addresses of Principal Callihan and Supt. Perrin is given.

Keep Going, Prin. Callihan's Advice.

With complimentary remarks Principal Callihan referred to the senior class and said: This is a public farewell to the senior class and the occasion will remain in my mind for a long time. This is the first class of seniors whom I have had the experience of teaching and bidding farewell in my career. It is the largest in the history of the school and may be the largest for some the sophomore class all remain till time to come unless the members of the end of their course. I shall be glad to have another class which will measure up to this in quantity and quality. I thank you all most sincerely for your hearty co-operation in the work of the past year and am truly rejoiced that it has been my privilege to work with you. Remember you will meet many trials, vicissitudes, and disappointments in life; many hardships and difficulties will await you and my parting words to you will be the words of the little poem "Keep Going."

Supt. Perrin spoke next. He said in brief: I am truly glad to be here today and I am somewhat reminded of an occasion on which an eminent man from Yale university spoke and referring to the matter a paper said:

"The eminent Prof. —— spoke and the church was closed three weeks for repairs."

To the seniors let me say I hold up before you a certified copy of the list of the graduates passed on by the board of education and I hope you are just beginning your career and will move with the speed of the chicken thief scared away from the coop by the irate owner who fired at him. Mentioning the fact the intruder said he heard the bullet twice; once when it passed him and once when he passed the bullet.

Service is Required.

Remember in this life you cannot expect to get something for nothing. The world has need of your services and is ready to pay well for first class efforts but our work must be first class and it will always be in demand.

This large class of ninety members is looking forward to careers of various kinds. Some probably expect school work and some to pursue still further their quest for knowledge. Here in Jacksonville you will find institutions of higher education which are excellent and others in various places affording all manner of opportunities.

It has been estimated by competent observers that the time you devote faithfully to study in school will be worth $10 to $25 a day. Honors await the one who will do his best. Make your work honorable no matter how humble it may be. Put your heart into it and do it well. We need a vein of humor as we travel thru life. Seek the golden mean; have generous sympathy for all men. I can only hope that in life this class will be as superior as it has been in school.

We have some work before us and I am glad this class has turned something back into the school as well as taken much out. On the stage $300 has been paid and $100 yet remains due which is an excellent showing and will surely be met.

On behalf of the Kappa Gamma society Miss Ida Widmayer said the society had some money and would present to the school a picture of Sir Gallahad. The announcement was received with applause.

Principal Callihan returned thanks to the young ladies and said it was well to give as well as receive and he commended their example to all.

CONFERENCE TO TALK PEACE.

New York, May 29.—Numerous Socialist leaders and other peace advocates are expected to take part in the "First American Conference for Democracy and Terms of Peace," which has been called to meet tomorrow at the Holland House in this city. While the establishment of a speedy, righteous and enduring peace is the announced purpose of the conference, it is forecasted from statements made by the promoters of the gathering that it is more than likely to develop into an "against the war" demonstration. It is proposed that the conference pledge itself against the enactment of, and for the repeal of, all compulsory military training and service laws; to uphold freedom of conscience and support conscientious objectors; to defend constitutional rights of freedom of speech, of press, and of assemblage; to work for the democratization of the diplomacy of the United States, and for the establishment of the principle of referendum on war.

International Corn Planters Have a Habit of Pleasing

IF your neighbor owns an International corn planter, you don't have to be told that he is satisfied. You know it, and we know it. The International corn planter satisfies because it is simple and because it plants corn the way you want it planted. A strong feature is the adjustable runner frame, keeping the runners even and the hoppers level, no matter what the height or speed of your team. This mean accurate dropping and even checking instead of zig zag. It is a very convenient planter under all conditions.
The International is the corn planter that deserves to be looked over by every farmer who wants to get the most out of his cornfields. It wastes neither seed nor ground, it handles easily, and it lasts as long as any farmer could ask.
Come in the first time it is convenient and study an International planter. Made in five styles—own the style that suits you.

ARMY CLASSIFICATIONS MULTIPLY RAPIDLY

State Military Authorities Find It Difficult to Keep Various Organizations Clear in Minds of Public—Only Three Classifications Controlled by U. S. Government.

Springfield, Ill., May 29.—Military classifications have multiplied so rapidly within a few weeks that Illinois military authorities are finding it difficult to keep the various organizations clear in the minds of those who have not closely followed federal and state legislation.

Including federal organizations, Illinois contributes, or will contribute, men to eighty army classifications. Some of these are provided for in pending state legislation, but no opposition to the formation of such units has been encountered. The eight classifications are:

National army, regular army, federalized national guard, voluntary training corps, militia reserve, home defense brigade, unorganized militia, and organized militia.

Only the first three classifications—national army, regular army and federalized national guard—are controlled by the United States government.

The national army will be composed of men between the ages of 21 and 30 who are selected from every state in the union.

The regular army will consist of the regular standing army recruited to war strength and augmented in accordance with new federal legislation. The federalized national guard is made up of state troops who have subscribed to the federal oath and are no longer directed by state military authorities.

Five Other Military Organizations.

The other five military organizations are subject to state authority only. The volunteer training corps, for the creation of which no legislation is considered necessary, is being made up of peace-strength companies over the state, members of which will buy their own equipment. This organization is the creation of the state council of defense.

A step in advance of the volunteer training corps is the proposed militia reserve to be formed from completed companies of the volunteer training corps. The militia reserve will be subject to call by the governor in case of state emergency, and will receive pay when in state service. This organization also will purchase its own equipment and will be of no expense to the state. A bill is pending in the legislature to create the militia reserve.

Another new organization, authorized by existing law, is the home defense brigade, to be composed of three regiments for safeguarding Illinois property when the other state troops have been removed to the southern department for training. The last two state military classifications are the organized and unorganized militia. The unorganized militia refers to every male citizen between the ages of 18 and 45 whether he has ever had military training or not. The organized militia comprises all men under arms in the military service of the state but not subject to federal direction.

All state organizations are subservient to the call of the war department, and membership in any state military unit does not exempt a person from service in the United States armies.

THE WISE LITTLE PIG TURNS HIS GRUNTS TO ROOTS THESE DAYS. -:-

Two little pigs in a pasture ran,
One said, "I will get fat if I can.
The other grunted and lay in the shade,
In a hole, made by a rusty old spade.
The wise little pig is tender and sweet,
And when you eat it you will think it a treat.
You can find the said pig in a snow white pan,

NINETY GRADUATE FROM LOCAL HIGH SCHOOL

LARGEST CLASS IN HISTORY OF SCHOOL FINISHES COURSE CREDITABLY

"Obligation of The Individual to Society" Theme of Pres. Shryock of Normal in Commencement Address—Excellent Musical Program—Diplomas Presented by Supt. Perrin

Obedience to the law was the keynote of the address of Dr. Henry William Shryock to the graduating class of Jacksonville high school Tuesday evening. "If obedience to law has been taught," said the speaker, "other things will follow in natural sequence."

The large gymnasium at David Prince school was filled to overflowing with the families and friends of the graduating class. The class which numbered ninety is the largest in the history of the school. The officers of the class are:

President—Earl Priest.
Vice president—Hazel Widmayer.
Secretary—William Hudson.
Treasurer—Irene Smith.

Prior to the address of Dr. Shryock the invocation was by Dr. F. B. Madden, pastor of Grace church.

Musical Numbers

This was followed by two violin numbers by William Kritch and two song numbers by Mrs. Genevieve Clark Wilson of Illinois College conservatory. The accompanists were Miss Ruth Duncan and Mr. Munger. Both numbers were received with enthusiasm and responded with encores.

Following the address Miss Beulah Smith of the College of Music of Illinois Woman's college played two violin numbers most acceptably and Miss Rena M. Lazelle of the College of Music sang a pleasing number. Miss Edith Hillerby was accompanist for Miss Smith and Mr. Stearns was accompanist for Miss Lazelle.

The address of Dr. Shryock was filled with many good thoughts not only for the members of the graduating class but for the audience as well. There were touches of humor too and the attention was close thruout.

The speaker in the beginning said that it was not his purpose to entertain but to say something to the young men and women of the class who were about to go out into the world.

A Record Class

He spoke of the large class graduating and said that probably there was not another city in the state of like population that had such a large class. The speaker referred to Jacksonville as the city of schools and said that the class was fortunate that their careers had been spent in such pleasant surroundings.

The speaker divided the human race into three classes. He referred to the aged citizens and said that it did not speak well for this country that no provision had as yet been made for taking care of them. He referred to the laws of Germany and England which had been drafted to care for those who were unable to make any economic returns.

The speaker also called attention to that class who were able to produce but were unwilling to do so. He used weeds to make comparisons with the human parasites of society. It was impressed upon the members of the class that each had his or her bit to do in the world's work and that all should so fit themselves that this work could be done with the greatest degree of efficiency.

Obedience to Law a Great Lesson

Dr. Shryock said that the school would have failed in its duty if it sent these boys and girls into the world with the single idea of making dollars. "The greatest thing in life is obedience to the law," said the speaker. "If obedience to the law has been taught all other things will follow. The time may soon come when the nation will reach out and touch its young men and women with the finger of duty. When it does you must respond nobly to preserve civilization."

Superintendent Perrin presented the diplomas. He said that President Lippincott was kept from the exercises by illness. He complimented the class upon its completion of the prescribed course and said that the community was proud of them and that they must see to it that the work of the four years had not been in vain.

Order of Exercises

MAKE PROGRESS ON FOOD SURVEY BILL

Senate Agriculture Committee Paves Way for Prompt Final Enactment

Washington, May 29—Considerable progress was made by the senate today toward passage of the administration food survey and production bill. Early in the day the senate had been considering the similar bill which already has passed the house, thereby paving the way for prompt final enactment.

Into the house bill the committee had written an amendment by Senator Poindexter to penalize the storage of food, fuel, and other necessaries with intent to corner a market, with a proviso by Senator Kenyon exempting farmers and other original producers.

A motion by Senator McKellar striking from the bill the providing for the eradication of insects and plant diseases injurious to agriculture was adopted by the senate without a record vote.

During the debate Senator Sherman criticised the activities of the Council of National Defense. He said he did not question the council's motives, but thought it was interfering with the general welfare of the country by its orders in many cases.

AMERICAN SCHOONER SUNK BY SUBMARINE

NEW YORK, May 29.—The American schooner Margaret B. Rouss which left St. Andrews Bay, Florida Feb. 4, with cargo of pine lumber for Genoa, was sunk by a submarine April 27, near the French-Italian coast and the crew robbed by the Germans, according to Captain Fred L. Foot, master of the schooner, who arrived here today from France. Captain Foot said a detachment from the submarine boarded his vessel and took from it everything of value. They were set adrift in open boat and were landed at Monte Carlo by a patrol boat which picked them up. The schooner was sunk by bombs.

INTEREST IN THE CONGRESSIONAL ELECTIONS

Manchester, N. H., May 28.—Today marked the close of a spirited campaign in the First congressional district of New Hampshire for the choice of a representative to succeed the late Cyrus A. Sulloway. The result of the special election to be held tomorrow is awaited with keen interest, owing to the close alignment of the two parties in the present Congress and the tremendous importance of the war issues now before that body. In the last two elections the district has gone Republican by a small majority. The Republican candidate in tomorrow's election is Sherman E. Burroughs, a Manchester lawyer. Patrick H. Sullivan of Manchester, also an attorney, is the Democratic candidate. The Republicans have conducted their campaign on a wet and dry issue. The Democrats have made their fight on straight war situation lines, urging the election of a Democrat, who will stand solidly with the President.

WAGES FOR SHIPBUILDERS.

Portland, Ore., May 28.—At a conference of Pacific Coast shipbuilders and employes here this week an effort will be made to reach a satisfactory agreement on the wage dispute in order that there may be no interference in this section with the Government's shipbuilding program. Following a strike in the early part of the year at two of the Portland steel shipbuilding yards, an increase was granted the local workers and it was understood that the wages were practically the same all over the coast. A recent increase granted by the Seattle shipyards, however, has rendered further changes necessary in order to bring about a standard scale.

James Fairfield of Orleans was one of the city's visitors yesterday.

WOULD BE MISTAKE TO WITHDRAW FROM PACIFIC

Such Action on Germany's Part Would Mean Irreparable Loss of Prestige and World Power for Empire, is Opinion of Prof. Paul Preuss Expressed in Recent Article

Copenhagen, May.—(Correspondence of The Associated Press.)—Germany must reestablish herself in the Pacific, in order not to miss her last opportunity to prevent a final settlement of Japanese, American and British, especially Australian, interests, in the opinion of Professor Paul Preuss in an article in the Hamburg Nachrichten, of Hamburg.

"A self-contained Central Africa," he writes, "stretching as far as possible to the west, and the possibility of a land connection with Central Africa with Constantinople by way of Egypt makes the scheme seem particularly attractive. But world economics and world politics cannot be pursued with Central Africa alone. We need other bases also for our world trade and sea traffic. In the far East, in the Pacific Ocean, we have for three decades possessed a rising little colonial empire, and it would be an unforgivable and irreparable mistake if we were to abandon our South Seas colonies and to withdraw from the Pacific, merely because the great settlement of interests has begun among three great powers—Japan, North America and England-Australia, and because we shall have to fear that at some later date we should come into contact with these powers.

"If the three powers were to arrive at a perfect and permanent agreement about the Pacific Ocean and China our case would be hopeless. But as long as Japan and America oppose one another in more or less open hostility, and as long as Australia sees in Japan, whom England has summoned to the protection of her interests in the East, her most dangerous competitor and opponent—as long as these things are so, Germany has no occasion to budge from the Pacific.

"A temporary occupation of our colonies by our enemies is of no decisive importance. The disappearance of the German flag from New Guinea and the group of islands in the Pacific would mean a irreparable loss of prestige and world power for the German Empire all over the East. If we lose our naval bases there we fall back to the rank of mere carriers and traders, in whose face the door can always be slammed."

The professor concludes: "If Germany recovers her South Sea colonies, she can, without any great anxiety resume in grand style the competition for commercial supremacy in the Pacific in the new age of commercial policy."

STATE OF BELGIAN PUBLIC HEALTH APPALLING

London, May.—(Correspondence of The Associated Press.)—According to a Belgian physician who has just returned from Belgium, the state of the public health, in some of the industrial centers of Belgium is appalling. The vitality of the half starved workmen has become so impaired that large numbers are unable to combat diseases.

In one region the percentage of sickness has increased to 162 per thousand in 1914 to 275 per thousand in 1916 and in January and February of this year to 378 per thousand. In 1916 the death rate was 0.81 per cent and during the same region 614 weighed from 2¼ pounds to eighty pounds below the standard.

STAR ATHLETES JOIN THE COLORS

The records of enlistment for war service up to the present indicate that the amateurs are responding far more readily to Uncle Sam's call for fighting men than are the professional athletes. Among those already enlisted are many stars in football, tennis, polo, swimming and rowing, and also many famous performers on the track and in the field. After the close of the college season the number will probably increase.

A numbr of Harvard athletes, both of the present and past, have joined the colors. The sensational work of Charlie Brickley, Sam Felton, Ben Parsons and Trafford Hicks on the gridiron a few years ago is still fresh in the memory of all followers of Crimson athletics. All four of the old gridiron warriors are members of the Harvard's army unit.

Clarence J. Griffin, who with William Johnston holds the national doubles tennis championship, is among those who have entered the training camp at Plattsburg.

Michael McDermott, national champion breast stroke swimmer and three times winner of the Mississippi valley marathon, has joined the aviation corps of the navy.

Ted Cann, another noted swimmer and holder of several championship titles, has enlisted in the United States naval reserve. His brother, Howard Cann, captain of the New York University football and baseball teams; Paul Mooney, who played center on the same gridiron team, and Garland Reese, New York Athletic Club pole vaulter, have also joined the naval reserve.

Andy Ward, the national champion amateur sprinter, has been accepted for the officers' reserve camp at Fort Sheridan.

The first marathoner of note to join the army is Johnny Hayes, the hero of the London Olympic games. Johnny has enlisted in the Plattsburg corps.

Andy Kelly of Holy Cross College, who holds the New England intercollegiate record for the 100 and 220-yard runs, has enlisted in the army.

Devereux Milburn, one of America's most celebrated polo players and a contestant in several of the internation l matches, has joined a Waterbury cavalry organization. Milburn was a member of the polo team that went to England in 1909 and won the international trophy.

Laurens (Spike) Schull, a noted athlete of Chicago university, has enlisted for service at the officers' training camp at Fort Sheridan. Schull was captain and pitcher of the Maroon baseball team and all-Western tackle in 1915.

No fewer than thirteen members of the 1916 football squad at the University of Minnesota have responded to the call for service. Mauser, captain of this year's team, is a member of the Iowa National Guard. Gray joined the Marine Corps. Sinclair signed with an ambulance corps for service in France, and VanNest and Anderson have taken up intensive farming. Eight other members of the Gopher eleven have enlisted for the officers' reserve training camps.

Paul Taylor, captain of last year's football team at Lafayette College, is taking the course in the officers' training camp at Fort Niagara.

This is only a partial list of the athletes who were among the first squad to respond to the call of the nation. It is sufficient, however, to show that the amateurs, and particularly the collegians have not been lax in responding to the call for service. No better evidence is needed of the patriotism of the amateur athletic fraternity.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Harper of Arenzville were city callers yesterday.

INTERESTING NEWS OF THE SPORT WORLD

(By Associated Press.)

Butte, Mont., May.—Joe McGinnity who shares honors with Christy Mathewson when the New York Giants were victorious over the Philadelphia Athletics in the world's series of 1905, shows signs of being the "iron man" he was more than a decade ago. Recently McGinnity, who is 48 years old, pitched winning ball for Butte against Vancouver in both ends of a double header, allowing only three runs in both. In the four games he worked against Vancouver, that team scored only seven runs.

Tacoma, Washn., May.—Tacoma's pitching staff is the sensation of the Northwestern League so far this season. The three stars are Sutherland, who has a no-hit game to his credit this year; Herman Pillett, an Indian pitcher denied a league trial a year ago, but now called the "find of the season," and Henry Peterson, a come-back.

Grinnell, Iowa., May.—Grinnell College has cancelled its intercollegiate baseball schedule for the remainder of this season because of a large number of enlistmenes of athletes for military service. A series of interclass games has been arranged, but even this may be cancelled.

Des Moines, Ia., May.—All receipts in excess of the expenditures for the annual tournament of the Iowa State Tennis association to be held here beginning Aug. 13, will be turned over to the Red Cross or to some other patriotic organization. The net proceeds heretofore have represented a substantial sum. It is expected that the international situation will reduce the number of participants in the meet.

Minneapolis, Minn., May.—The annual Inland Lake Yachting regatta virtually has been called off by directors of the association, who adopted a resolution declaring that if the country "still is in a state of war" July 1, it would be inadvisable to hold the meeting at Lake Minnetonka, Minn., Aug. 20 to 24, as originally planned. Definite action will be taken by the directors July 1.

St. Louis, May.—The boxing contest between Jack Britton, the Chicago welterweight, and Ted Lewis, claimant of the British championship, scheduled to be decided here June 6, will be the eleventh meeting between them. The match was originally set for May 16, but was postponed because of Lewis' illness.

Columbus, O., May.—Baseball coaches at Ohio State University are casting about for a new catcher to fill the gap left by Bart Jones, who has entered the officers' reserve corps. Jones, a senior in the engineering department was regarded as one of the main-stays of the Ohio team.

Cleveland, May.—Boxing is in danger here as a result of the death of Luke Ginley in a preliminary bout a few weeks ago.

Clergymen are opposed to boxing and have set forth their views to a committee of the city council, appointed to investigate the sport.

St. Louis, May.—Carl Weilman, left handed pitcher with the St. Louis Americans, is to undergo an operation that will keep him out of the game for the remainder of the season. Weilman will have a tubercular kidney removed, and his physicians have advised him not to plan on pitching any more this year. He may be available, however, for next season.

Minneapolis, Minn., May.—Gus Vogel or "Sharkey," as he is known in the ring, is the first Minneapolis boxer to respond to the colors. He has enlisted in the cavalry of the regular army.

Chicago, May.—Steve Ketchel, a Chicago lightweight boxer is a member of the Northwestern University hospital unit, which has been ordered to France. Ketchel enlisted as an ambulance driver.

Milwaukee, May.—Although Marquette University is going ahead with plans for football next fall, it is considered doubtful that the institution will be represented on the gridiron unless the war situation becomes less tense.

Athletics at the University are on a good financial basis, the athletic association having $607 on the credit side of the ledger as against $273 a year ago.

Cleveland, May.—Johnny Kilbane, the featherweight champion, who outpointed Freddie Welsh, the lightweight title holder, in their New York contest, believes he can knock out Welsh in a return match.

It is Kilbane's ambition to become champion of both classes.

"I do not expect to engage in any more bouts," Wilbane said. "I have a few minor ones under consideration and when those are disposed of I'm simply going to linger around until I can win the lightweight championship from Welsh."

Lawrence, Kan., May.—The track team of the University of Kansas further has been depleted by the designation of Richard L. Prewecke to attend the officers' reserve training camp at Fort Riley, Kan. He was usually counted upon as a sure winner in both the high and broad jumps. Welsh, quarter mile relay runner, also has entered the military service.

Minneapolis, May.—Eight University of Minnesota track men won letters for the season which closed with the Nebraska meet on May 12. They are B. F. Johnson, sprints; Claude Williams, hurdles; Joe Sphafka, weights; Ira Davis, hammer; John Murray, jumps Ernest Bros, vault; Carl Wallace, distance runs, and George Hauser, weights.

St. Louis, May.—Instead of cancelling the scheduled tournaments, the Missouri Golf Association will hold its meets during the war and give the entry fees to the Red Cross or some other worthy war cause.

Under this plan, both the men's and woman's annual tournaments will be held this year, May 28 to June 2, inclusive, the men's at Algonquin Golf Club and the women's over the course of the Westwood Country Club. In place of the usual valuable trophy, gold and bronze medals will be presented to the winners.

Manhattan, Kansas, May.—A second lieutenant's commission in the marine corps has been issued to Sidney R. Vandenburg, a former star hurdler and dash man on the track team of the Kansas State Agricultural College. Vandenburg has reported for active duty.

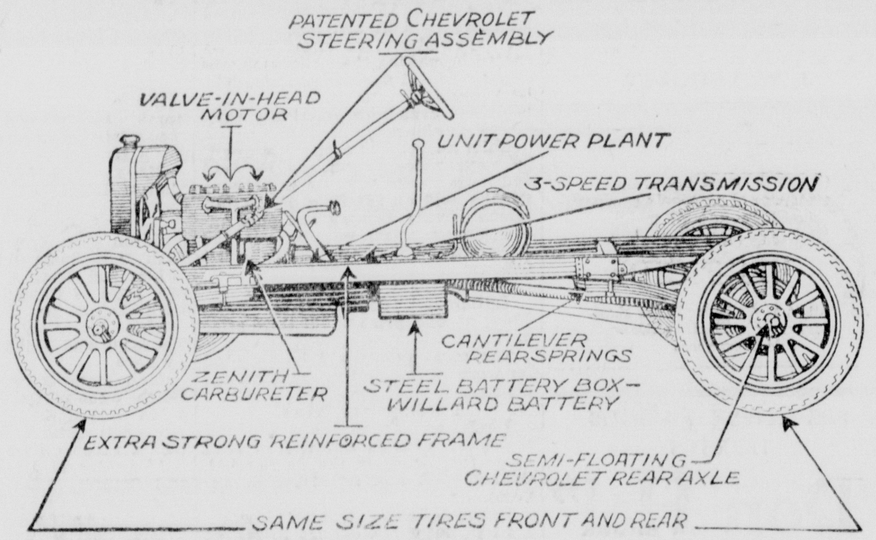

Milwaukee, May.—Boxing fans may have a chance to see their favorites in action here all summer. Instead of closing up during the hot months, as has been the custom, one of the largest clubs is considering installing a cooling system in its arena and conducting the contests thruout the summer.

Flint, Mich., May.—The Michigan baseball league of four clubs has been organized. The cities represented are Bay City, Saginaw, Port Huron and Flint. Opening games will be played May 27. The season will close Sept. 3.

Detroit, May.—Although the Detroit Americans have found the Boston pitching staff a stumbling block to their pennant hopes, not a member of the present Red Sox hurling staff won his first game against the Tigers. Ruth, Foster, Wyckoff, Pennock, Leonard, Shore, and Mays all started and failed. Ruth, Wyckoff, Leonard and Shore were knocked out of the box on their first appearance.

Another champion, Ted Meredith, the world's champion middle distance winner, has volunteered for the flying corps. Joe Higgins, one of the best quartermilers in the country, has volunteered with Meredith.

REFLECTIONS OF JONASIAH PLUNK.

Wall things is changed since I was young, Said Jonasiah Plunk;
The things we prized most highly,
Would now pass up for junk.
And spellin' bum! ge whiz
They've dropped as many syllables
They've knocked us out of biz.
And writin's straight and wonderful,
But then I rather guess
That they've brought back Spencerian,
A much more decent dress.
And larnin' history and things
Is clean shoved to the wall;
By that new fangled trainin'
It don't show up at all.
But bye and bye and after while
I guess they'll tire of all those things
And let them fangled notions spile,
And taint too soon, for the young set
Is gettin, mighty high falutin' like
That an old chap like me
Aint fit to speak his mind out right,
But then fur sure I see—
The times is comin' not fer off
When they will stop this awful guilt,
And they'll have time to stop and hoist
Up in the thing they're ridin' in
Some cars o' corn, a chunk of coal
Or some such thing a livin in the road
Which they have noticed as they've passed along.
It shows good thrift to look around,
And not go 'long so fast;
Fer many things are on the ground
That young folks drive right past,
Those automos on my—oh my!
I've seen the day when I'd a tho't
Before I'd ride in one I'd die.
Now sometimes a feller's tempted
Jest to take a spin, and why.
Just while you're unaware
As like as not you'll die.
I tell you Sal they don't compare
With our old mules—By Gum!
And 'fore I'd have one o them things
I'm sure I'd stay at hum.
They go too fast, they'll make you deaf,
And then you don't know what you see.
I'll tell you what and its the truth
No automos fur me.
Just give me back my dear old mules,
Then Sal and I will ride and ride,
And we can talk and sing and laugh
A sittin' side by side.

Mrs. Lulu Hillerby Hopper.

GRAIN PRICES DEVELOP MATERIAL WEAKNESS

Wheat Depends Largely on the Action of Coarse Grain and is Unsettled at the Finish With July at $2.03 and September at $1.83½

Chicago, May 29.—Grain prices today developed material weakness after an earlier show of strength. The short interest had been greatly reduced while the temporary bulge was in progress. When longs attempted to unload further there found but little demand. The wheat market depended largely on the action of coarse grains, and was unsettled at the finish, with July at $2.03 and Sept. at $1.83½. Corn closed 5c to 2¾c down and oats off ¾ to 1¾c. In provisions, the outcome was an advance of 42 to 85c.

Trade in corn was large and practically while shorts were covering on a sharp reaction from yesterday's big break in prices. Unexpected scantiness of offerings from the country had caused temporary anxiety on the part of shorts. When their wants had been supplied, however, leading houses became active sellers and forced a setback in prices.

Corn prospects remained good and shipping demand slow.

Oats swayed with corn. Assertions of a revival in export call were not confirmed.

Foreign inquiry for offers of meats and lard had much to do with the advance in provisions.

Offerings were light.

KANSAS CITY LIVESTOCK MARKET

Kansas City Stock Yards, May 28, 1917.—Trade in stockers and feeders was dull first half of last week, but after Wednesday there was a stronger inquiry for the better grades and total outgo for the week was fairly liberal at 15,500 head, some as in the preceding week. So far this year 385,000 head of stockers and feeders have been bought here and shipped to country points an increase of 10,000 head over the same time last year. A feature recently is the strong demand here from the Northwest for breeding stock, South Dakota, Colorado and California being represented in the buying last week, taking cows with calves by their side in each case, this combination being a rather new deal here, selling price 9 to 10 cents a pound in most cases. Receipts Monday this week were heavy, at 15,000 cattle and like calves, and more than the usual Monday proportion were stockers and feeders. Many sections in West Texas and Oklahoma sent stock cattle to the Monday's market, also mostly at $8.25 to 9 for yearlings and two and two choice yearlings up to $10. Heretofore packers have been strong bidders for steers in the feeding class, but larger supplies of beef steers caused them to withdraw their attention from the feeders Monday, and country buyers had a chance to get them with less competition, sales at $9.25 to $10, a few half at steers last week up to $11.35. A year ago at this time the best stock steers were selling at $8.65 and feeders $9. Most of the stock cows and heifers bring $5.25 to $7.00, a few fancy ones up to $10.50, odd lead at $11. Choice immunized stock dogs sell at $7.75 to $8.25. Southern and Western at $7.75 to $8.50. A few loads of Mexican Angora goats sold last week at very high prices, $10.20 to $11.25, but the arrival of about 1500 head of goats Monday caused a break of 50 cents to a dollar. Angora brushers selling at $10 to $10.50, and slick haired Mexican brush at $8.25.

CHICAGO LIVESTOCK MARKET

Oliver S. Green with Walter Bros., U. S. Yards, Chicago, Ill., reports the estimated receipts for Monday, May 28, 1917 25,500 cattle, 37,000 hogs and 10,000 sheep.

General market was weak and 15 to 25c lower. Cheapest grades and fat yearlings made but very little decline. Heavy weights and less prime stuff suffered the most. There was fully a good number of good cattle but the market was very uneven.

34 cattle averaging 1778 made the same top as last week, $13.75@.2, other lots weighing around 1020 to 1075 at $12.85 but $13.10 yearlings averaging 978 made $12.90. Butcher stock rules lower under a heavy pressure. The supply was liberal. Cows generally 10 to 15c lower; good kinds freest sellers. Canners and cutters 15 to 25c lower; calves mostly 50c. Bull trade steady; stocker and feeder trade bad; poor call and prices same as last week's close.

STOCKS RISE BRISKLY DURING FINAL HOUR

Efforts by Short Interest to Depress Prices Meet With Indifferent Success.

New York, May 29.—Efforts by the short interest to depress prices in today's irregular market met with indifferent success the list rising briskly in the last hour and wiping out many early declines of 1 to 3 points.

Selling or long stock by traders who chose to close out their contracts over the holiday was an additional factor in the unsettlement of the forenoon together with an abatement of public interest.

Initial prices were 1 to 2 points under yesterday's close. United States Steel was among the first to yield, dropping 2 points to 130⅜ in the first hour. In the last 15 minutes steel crept slowly up to 133⅝ and closed only a fraction lower. Other industrials of like description made almost proportionate recoveries, Bethlehem Steel, Crucible Steel and Lackawanna Steel accompanying the movement at moderate net gains.

Rails and shippings dropped during the morning with metals, motors, oils, leathers and the gas shares.

Total sales of stocks amounted to 1,020,000 shares. Bonds were irregular, the trend, however, being mainly upward in rails and utilities. Total sales, par value aggregated $2,485,000.

United States coupon and registered 2s declined ¾ percent; coupon 3s ¼ and Panama registered 2s 1 per cent on call.

CHICAGO LIVESTOCK MARKET

Chicago, May 29.—Weak demand for hogs offset a light run of swine today and prices averaged ten cents lower than yesterday's prices. Shippers and packers were satisfied to offer less than sellers demanded and declined to raise their bids. Inferior quality of nearly all grades of cattle received worked against higher prices and lack of buyers in the sheep market caused mutton prices to decline.

Hogs—Receipts 33,000. Tomorrow's estimate 26,000. Market weak. Bulk $15.15@$15.65; light $14.40@$15.50; mixed $15.05@$15.65; heavy $15.05@$15.70; rough $15.05@$15.30; pigs $10.25@$14.25.

Coughing Tires the Old

Hard winter coughs are very tiring to elderly people. They mean loss of sleep, and they deplete the strength, lower vitality, weaken and wear out the system.

Foley's Honey and Tar stops coughs quickly. It is a standard family medicine that contains no opiates, and is noted for its quick effect on coughs, colds, croup, bronchial and lagrippe coughs, and the chronic coughs of elderly people.

J. B. Williams, Trenton, Ga., over 73 years old says: "I have used Foley's Honey and Tar for years with the best and surest results."

"ANURIC!"
THE NEWEST
DISCOVERY IN CHEMISTRY

This is a recent discovery of Doctor Pierce, who is head of the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute at Buffalo, N. Y. Experiments at Doctor Pierce's Hospital for several years proved that there is no other eliminator of uric acid that can be compared to it. For those easily recognized symptoms of inflammation—as backache, scalding urine and frequent urination, as well as sediment in the urine, or if uric acid in the blood has caused rheumatism, it is simply wonderful how surely "Anuric" acts. The best of results are always obtained in cases of acute rheumatism in the joints, in gravel and gout, and invariably the pains and stiffness which so frequently and persistently accompany the disease rapidly disappear.

Go to your nearest drug store and simply ask for a 50-cent package of "Anuric," manufactured by Dr. Pierce, or send 10 cents to Dr. Pierce for a large trial package. If you suspect kidney or bladder trouble, send him a sample of your water and describe symptoms. Doctor Pierce's chemist will examine it, then Dr. Pierce will report to you, without fee or charge.

NOTE:—French scientists affirm that "Anuric" is thirty-seven times more active than lithia in eliminating uric acid, and is a harmless but reliable chemical compound that may be safely given to children, but should be used only by grown-ups who actually wish to restore their kidneys to perfect health, by conscientiously using one box—or more in extreme cases—as "Anuric" (thanks to Doctor Pierce's achievement) is by far the most perfect kidney and bladder corrector obtainable.

Dr. Pierce's Pellets are the original little Liver Pills. One little Pellet for a laxative—three for a cathartic.

HISTORY OF MEDICINE

The Morgan County Medical Society Will Be Fifty Years Old This Month.

Anyone who has information about any of the early doctors of this county, or of any Medical Meetings or Societies prior to 1866, will confer a favor by sending it to Dr. Walter Frank, secretary of the Morgan County Medical Society, 200 Ayers Bank Building, and it will be edited for this column.

SCOTT COUNTY PHYSICIANS

Originally what is now Scott County was a part of Morgan County. For this reason in considering the History of Medicine in Morgan County the early Scott County Doctors must be included. Dr. Jas. Miner, the nestor of medicine in Scott County and one of the charter members of the Morgan County Medical Society has furnished some interesting reminiscences of the early doctors which we have the privilege of presenting in this column from day to day. Today we present

DR. D. D. BRENGLE

Dr. Daniel David Brenglee was born in Bavaria, Grmany, in 1818 and died in Winchester, Ill., April 22nd, 1910, a little over 92 years of age. He came to this country with his parents when he was fourteen years of age. He studied medicine with Dr. Fithian of Danville, Ill. He came to Winchester, Ill., in 1845 and began the practice of medicine and continued in active practice until he was 86 years of age, when on account of partial loss of his eye sight he retired from active practice, still in vigorous health and his usual mental and physical activity.

He was a man of great physical endurance. I have known him to be in the saddle riding hard the major part of the time day and night for two months at a stretch and never heard him say he was even tired.

He was a man of genial, lovable disposition and very social in his habits, a good mixer. Of his medical attainment, de mortui nigil nisi bonis. Had you asked any of his numerous patrons, they would have told you he was the greatest Doctor that ever practiced in Scott County, and if success is a criterion, it may be so for he did a larger business for a greater number of years than any other physician in Winchester. He was a good man and loved by his community.

Note—D. Geo. C. Brengle, now practicing in Winchester, is one of the most active and aggressive physicians in Scott County and has followed in the footsteps of his worthy father. Many families in Scott have only known a Doctor Brengle as their family physician, even unto the fourth generation.—(Editor)

DR. CLARK ROBERTS

Dr. Clark Roberts studied medicine with his brother Daniel and graduated from the medical depatment of Illinois College, in 1846. He began pactice in Exeter and remained there until 1865 when he removed to Winchester and continued in active practice until short time before he died in 1886. Dr. Roberts was a man of more than ordinary ability. He was talented in many respects he was a genius. He was quite an inventor. He made for himself a telescoupe. He invented a gate latch, for which he was offered a large sum of money for the patent but he thought there was a fortune in it and would not sell. He was well versed in anatomy, and his mechanical skill made his an excellent surgeon.

He was always experimenting with remedies, in the treatment of diseases. He was the first man in this part of the State to use carbolic acid as a remedy and used it in many various ways as a remedy long before it wa generally spoken of and recommended in our Medical Journals.

He made a formula for an expectorant, with no anodyne in it, of such excellent virtue, it became widely known and several pharmacists offered him quite a sum of money for the formula.

Dr. Poberts had an imagination to an intense degree, in fact some of his friends said he was visionary. His thirst for literature made him dip into every study he had an opportunity for pursuing. He was quite an astronomer and used to study the heavens with a telescope of his own making. He was quite a musician and could play upon many musical instrumnts. H was th author of several Monographs of interest, one on the Gyroscope and another, "Causes of the revolution of the Earth." The great trouble with Dr. Robets was lack of concentration.

He dipped into too many different things. Had he only confined himself to any one of the many studies in which he he was proficient, he might have been an example of success. He cared nothing for money and consequently, too often needed it. He was a kind good soul and loved his fellowman, and left his impress on the community in which he lived.

DR. WM. H. WILSON

Dr. Wm. H. Wilson was born in Lexington, Ky., in 1811 and died in Winchester, Ill., in 1859. He came to Jacksonville, Ill. in 1832 and practiced for 2 years with Dr. Smith of that place.

In 1834 he came to Winchester, Ill., and went into partnership in the practice of medicine with Dr. Daniel Roberts.

Dr. Wilson was a graduate of Transylvania College of Medicine, Lexington, Ky. He was a man of imposing appearance and very impressive manner. He had great executive ability and wielded a large influence in Winchester and Scott County.

Early in the 40's he built for himself and family a large brick residence in Winchester, Scott County. The place is now owned by Chas. D. Doyle.

In the prime of his life he died suddenly from Cerebreal hemorrhage, only 5 years of age.

In Medical Etiquette he used Westcott's construction of the Golden Rule, "Do the other Doctor as he would do you, and do it first."
